SEARCH CONSOLE

Google now shows how often AI answers use your site.

Here is where to find it, and how to read it.

WHAT IT IS

The Generative AI report.

Google added it to Search Console on 3 June 2026, and every site had it by 31 August.

It counts how often your pages appeared in AI Overviews and AI Mode.

WHERE TO FIND IT

Performance, then Generative AI.

Open Search Console, choose your site, and look under Performance in the menu.

It splits the count by page, country, device and date.

WHAT IT DOES NOT SHOW

Clicks.

The report counts appearances only. To see visits from Google, keep using the main Performance report and Google Analytics.

appearances for a new export site in three months.

A herb exporter in Rajasthan, live on a new domain from 3 July 2026, from almost none in mid-July to about 120 a day.

ITS SEARCH CONSOLE, GENERATIVE AI REPORT, TO 13 OCTOBER 2026.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

Which pages AI answers use.

Those pages answer a question clearly. Pages that never appear are the ones to check: are they indexed, and is their snippet allowed?
